The Mediterranean

Center of the earth to ancient cultures of the world. This landlocked sea was an important crossroad used by all who circled its shores. Some of the earliest empires known to man were born on these same coasts.

The Mediterranean

The cradle of mosaic. The history of mosaic goes back some 4,000 years or more with the use of tessera. These terracotta, marble or glass cones were pushed point-first into a background to give decoration. The tessera designs varied from simple geometrical patterns in black and white to dramatic pictorial arrangements of figures and animals. Examples of these early mosaics have been found in Rome, Pompei, Antioch, Zeugma (South Turkey) and North Africa among others.

The Mediterranean style is bold, colorful and textured with a consistent use of native materials and natural light at its core. The brilliant blues of the sea and sky combine with the greens of cypress trees and olive groves, fields of brightly colored wild flowers, the crisp whitewashed villages and architectural treasures for a rich diverse palette.
